

Charlotte Dacia Mckelvie is a versatile young singer aged 15, who loves to perform and would really like to have a career in the classical music business.

She has recently been described as a “budding opera star” with a “breathtaking voice” by the Run-corn Weekly News after she brought the house down at The Brindley Theatre with her performance of “Time to Say Goodbye” at the finals of “Halton’s Got Talent”.

At the moment, she is a pupil at Fairfield High School for Performing Arts in Widnes, where she is studying Music, Drama and Business Studies for her GCSE’s.

She also attends Glenda Hill Theatreworks where she has been training in Dance, Drama and Singing for over 10 years.

She was previously a member of The Liverpool Philharmonic Youth Choir, but left to focus on her academic studies.

Charlotte was thrilled to be asked to work with Colin and the Sheer Joy Music Family this year and is really looking forward to it.
