

Glorious Love 10.10.10.10.

(TUNE: Woodlands) (Alt. TUNE: Ellers)

O glorious Love, that dared to love mankind,
Came down to earth to seek the lame and blind;
Then through that love, as great as love could be,
Died on the cross to claim the victory.

Such perfect Love! Yet purchased at a cost,
You came to seek and find, to save the lost;
To pay the awful price of sin and shame,
And having paid, return from whence You came.

O glorious Love! Yet You will love us still,
Now draw us close to You, Your love fulfil.
Then when, in glory, You return again,
We will, in rapture, loud proclaim Your Name!

Such perfect love! Whose name all men will praise,
Will glorify until the end of days;
Who, coming down to earth, did mankind save,
The sacrificial Lamb who beat the grave.

O glorious Love! Until You come again,
Lord, free us from a life of toil and pain;
Help us to live according to Your will,
Then, drawing our last breath, to praise You still!

© Colin Gordon-Farleigh, 2006