

Wings of Love

When I feel alone, and I've lost my way,
When the sun don't shine and it rains all day,
When my heart is sad and I'm feeling blue,
I've got wings of love to see me through,
*Burning gold like the brightest sun,
Sweetest joy when new life's begun,
O Wings of love carry me to you,
Wings of love to see me through,
Wings of love to see me through.*

These wings of love will keep me soaring high,
I'll go far beyond where the eagles fly;
Far above the clouds, way beyond the blue,
My wings of love carry me to you.
*Burning gold like the brightest sun,
Sweetest joy when new life's begun,
O Wings of love carry me to you,
Wings of love to see me through,
Wings of love to see me through.*

My wings will fly me to the promised land,
That's where my true love waits, to take my hand.
They'll carry me up to the highest height,
Through darkest day, to velvet night.
*Burning gold like the brightest sun,
Sweetest joy when new life's begun,
O Wings of love carry me to you,
Wings of love to see me through,
Wings of love to see me through.*

Yes, these wings of love keep me soaring high,
Far beyond the stars in the midnight sky;
To the heav'nly land that love's promise brings,
I'll fly there soon on these fiery wings.
*Burning gold like the brightest sun,
Sweetest joy when new life's begun,
O Wings of love carry me to you,
Wings of love to see me through,
Wings of love to see me through.*

O, these wings of love will see me through,
My wings of love fly me home to you (after last chorus, repeat and fade)
